

Frequently Asked Questions

Posted June 18, 2024

Question: How extensive should the discussion on exports be? We do see that there is mention in the RFP about domestic (i.e., to other U.S. states) and international but don't see anything similar in 2018 and 2021 reports we can use a reference in proposing scope/methodology in this regard.

Answer: The import and export portion of the analysis is a new topic we're exploring within this analysis. Therefore, we are open to the depth and breadth of this portion of the analysis appropriate for the budget. If there is ample opportunity to explore this topic beyond what is feasible in this engagement, we may consider this an area ripe for future, follow-on work.

Question: What "style" of report are you interested in? Whereas the 2018 report was written as a "traditional" written report the 2021 report was written as more of a high-level "PPT". Did the authors of the 2021 report still provide a more detailed report (but not published) or was what is on your website the full deliverable?

Answer: The report styles were intentional choices by our leadership team for each version, fit to "meet the moment" at the time of release. For the 2021 report, the posted version is the final format.

With that in mind, we welcome different format(s) and the consultant's recommendations on how best to communicate the findings of the analyses within the budget provided.
